Famous Bituminous Steam Coal Mines Are Outstanding Factor in Industrial Life of Alberta

COAL IS KING HERE. The extensive surface plant and underground workings of the International and McGillivray Coal Companies have been steadily developed since 1903. Millions of dollars have been paid to workers, railroad companies, Federal and provincial governments from the production of high-grade Bituminous coal from these up-to-date mining companies, of which Lorne A. Campbell is president; George Kellock, vice-president and general manager, and Albert F. Short, Secretary.

Grasshoppers Again

Only very recently in this column it was stated that the grasshopper infestation which robbed the farmers of crops in a substantial area of Saskatchewan to the value of $18,000,000 or $20,000,000 this fall almost on the eve of harvesting one of the best crops in years constitutes a potential menace to next year's crops, not only in the area devastated this fall but over the remainder of the wheat area of Saskatchewan and of the two sister provinces of Alberta and Manitoba.

At the same time it was stated that the problem was not confined to any particular province but was an international question, since the hoppers are now definitely known to be migratory and can travel long distances and that the infestation of this fall which took such heavy toll in Saskatchewan had its origin south of the international boundary.

In an attempt to solve the problem it was suggested that agricultural and entomological authorities of the three provinces and those of adjoining States of the Union subject to such infestations get together in a round table conference, decide what measures should be taken to combat the common enemy and that the legislatures enact such measures as may be necessary to ensure the success of any campaign which may be mutually agreed upon as essential for the partial or complete success of the project.

On Fruitful Ground

Since these suggestions are printed in it is gratifying to note that a conference of the nature and scope suggested has been approved by organizations in the Dakotas where farmers sustained a similar experience to that of the wheat growers in Saskatchewan. It has made strong representations to Washington to co-operate in a Northwestern conference following the usual fall survey of grasshopper egg infestation.

The parallel between conditions as they existed in Saskatchewan this fall and which may be repeated next year in any or all of the three provinces, the situation south of the international boundary is succinctly outlined in an article in the Minneapolis Tribune, as follows:

"For the season of 1938, elaborate preparations were made by the United States bureau of entomology and state entomologists, business men and farmers, for the most effective grasshopper control program ever put under way.

The United States government furnished the poison material and shipped it to points desired by the state entomologists. Every county, almost every township, was organized for a control program, and many thousands of poison bait-spreading machines were constructed by individual farmers and township and county organizations.

"North Dakota alone, the entomologist claims that more than 10,000 of these machines were built and used. They proved very satisfactory, and in most sections of the better grain raising areas the farmers declare they had the grasshopper menace under control.

"Then the migratory phase of the control program developed. On July 1 hoppers began to move into the northwest from states farther south. They came in clouds, covered all of the fields in a few hours, and in many counties and large areas, almost completely exterminated the crops.

"Under these conditions it was impossible to poison and save the crops. As a result from over the northwest reports came in to the effect that farmers feel they can control the hatch on their own farms, but unless a definite program is set up to control this hatch in the wide open spaces and unsettled territory, that the control program cannot be a success."

Co-operation Essential

It would seem almost superfluous to comment further upon the statements made by the publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune, but the fact that recognition is given in other sources to the vital necessity of conducting a widespread grasshopper destruction campaign in a well co-ordinated program over the entire territory subject to the type of long-distance infestation experienced in part of Saskatchewan and the Dakotas this fall is to say the least heartening and bespeaks the possibility of success for a campaign over the widest possible front, given 100 per cent. co-operation from all parties concerned, once the proposed conference has decided what measures are most likely to succeed and should be adopted.

There is this, however, to be remembered, that in every community there is a small minority who through inertia or ignorance refuse to give co-operation to prospects of this nature and their failure to play their part in such a campaign might go far towards nullifying efforts promulgated for the general weal.

To deal with such it is essential that legislation be provided making their participation compulsory in order that a few may not render the efforts of the many void.

It is earnestly to be hoped that all the governments concerned will readily agree to the proposed conference and that whatever measures may be recommended as most appropriate secure the most hearty support of the smaller local governing bodies and all individuals, farmers and business men, in the territory affected or likely to be affected.

New Zeppelin Carrying Mail Only Until Helium Available

The new Zeppelin LZ-130 will be filled with hydrogen for its first flight, pending a possible revocation of the United States ban on German purchases of non-inflammable helium gas, it was disclosed.

Structural changes are being carried out in the Zeppelin to conform the use of hydrogen, since original plans had been based on the expectation it would be filled with helium. The dirigible will only carry mail as long as hydrogen is in use.

Distance Is Vital Factor

Has To Be Calculated When Passing Cars On Highway

In a bulletin issued to members of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations, R. B. Morley, general manager, urges all automobile drivers to bear in mind that the matter of passing other cars on the highway is not a matter of "maybe yes and maybe no," but a matter of predetermined mathematical fact.

"Safe distance," he points out, "depends on the speed of the passing and on the vehicles approaching the vehicle in the direction of the passing vehicle and the one which is overtaken is great, the safe passing distance is less than when the difference is small. It also increases materially if more than one vehicle is to be passed."

A driver of a vehicle travelling 40 miles an hour, Mr. Morley explains, will require 1,200 feet of sight distance to pass another vehicle travelling 30 miles an hour, when the opposing traffic is coming toward him at his own speed of 40 miles. If he wants to pass two cars, his sight distance must be 1,600 feet, and 2,000 feet to pass three cars.

These sight distances are doubled when the passing car is travelling 60 miles an hour against opposing traffic of 30 miles, and when the car or cars to be passed are travelling at 50 miles.

"These figures are based," comments Mr. Morley, "on the braking distance of the vehicles, the total speed of moving traffic, and the reasonable assumption that vehicles will keep far enough back from the car ahead to stop in an emergency, and also that the passing car will not pull into line so close that the car passed would be unable to stop if necessary."

Machine Can Be Fooled

Clever Witness Could Make Lie Detector Quite Useless

The "truth about the lie detector" has been disclosed by Professor Christian A. Ruckmick of the University of Iowa, who conducted in his laboratory experiments to determine usefulness of this electric instrument, often used for crime detection, and for obtaining confessions from suspects.

Clever witness can fool the machine. Professor Ruckmick has found that clever operators of the machine can also detect these efforts at evasion.

In the hands of an expert who understands thoroughly the workings of the human mind and who is able, in interpreting the records of the lie detector, to make allowances for wide natural differences between the excitability of different individuals, this technique should prove valuable for crime detection, Professor Ruckmick concluded.

But this instrument is not as reliable for purposes of identification as either facial photography or fingerprinting, he warned, and therefore is a dangerous weapon in the hands of any but competent persons.

"Under no circumstances is it the same category as an ordinary other instrument, including mental testing," Professor Ruckmick said. "Only those who can see beyond the actual scores and interpret these scores in the frame of the individual mental life are competent to pass judgment," he said.

Ships Cannot Be Moved

Spanish Vessels Claimed By Franco Idle In London Dock

Franco's red and yellow flag flies defiantly from the stems of three ghost ships which lie idle in the heart of London.

For more than a year 20 Spaniards—12 men, six women and two children—have lived aboard these rust-covered vessels in a quiet corner of the East India docks.

Tied to the masts are three sheets of printed paper with the seal of the British courts forbidding the ships to be moved.

A little over a year ago Arantazu Mendi, Alu Mendi and Igazi Mendi, 30,000 tons of Basque shipping, sailed into London docks only to find that Franco's conqueror of Bilbao, claimed ownership.

The Spanish government disputed the claim and the ships remained impounded to await the decision of the courts.

Gradually the crews have disappeared, some to take up arms for the defense of republican Spain, others to fight for Franco. Only 12 are left out of 300 men.

With the skeleton crew of the ghost ships are five wives, little Camilla, aged three, who runs round the dirty debris littered decks of Alu Mendi on a tricycle, and the boy Jocada, aged six, who swings carelessly on the tattered ropes and sometimes falls into the water to be fished up all smiles and proud of his escapades.

Then there is 17-year-old Suzette, daughter of the chief officer, olive skinned and pretty. Eighteen months ago she should have a gun and fought before the women. Now she washes and cooks, with the other women, for her father and his companions.

There is little social life among this skeleton company. Like Spain herself, they are divided. The captain and officers are for Franco, the junior in rank for the republic, but the discord is silent and silent.

Early Days in Canada

Digging Up More Knowledge Of A Previous Age

It sometimes fails to an outsider to come into Canada and find out far more about Canada than many a Canadian knows. To wit at the moment, a professor from the University of New Mexico who claims to have discovered mountain caves of early man in the Northwest Territories, far northwest of Edmonton.

These caves are the first to be discovered by man many thousands of years ago. They substantiate, as Dr. R. W. E. R. Morris, believes, in the theory that man first got his start on this continent by swinging over from Asia, via the Bering straits. Whether the caves were the habitations of what we term the North American Indian, or the "mound builders," or some other people originating in Asia, is not clear.

It may also be interesting to present-day Canadians to have the view of the New Mexico professor, as he has come across, that great elephants once lunged and strutted within what is the Arctic Circle of today. Suggesting that it once may have been jungle country up there in northern Canada.

It is all fascinating and intriguing. Let us now regard the respected archaeologist as scientist as simply being a weird weapon in the hands of any but competent persons.

Dinosaur Tooth

Ancient Molar Weighing 13 Pounds Found In Saskatchewan

Workmen digging gravel from a pile two miles north of the forestry farm near Saskatoon unearthed an exceptionally fine specimen of a dinosaur tooth.

The tooth, which was taken to the University of Saskatchewan, weighed 13 pounds.

The tooth was discovered by one of the workmen while picking gravel loose from the pit. The pick struck the tooth and broke it into two parts, one weighing eight and the other five pounds. The tooth was taken to Professor V. Vigfusson, provincial analyst, who is interested in archaeology.

CASTLE FRUIT CAKE (Three Eggs)

2 1/2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour

2 1/2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder

1/4 teaspoon salt

1 1/2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

1/2 cup butter

1 cup sugar

2 tablespoons lemon juice

3 eggs, well beaten

1/2 cup finely chopped raisins

1/2 cup finely chopped currants

1/2 cup finely chopped candied cherries

1/2 cup pineapple

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Add lemon rind and sugar and lemon juice gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Then add flour, add a little at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in a greased tube pan or ring 350 degrees F. for 1 hour and 45 minutes, or until done. This cake is rich and should be stored overnight before eating.

It is a cheap and easy way to store it.

Milk From Soya Beans

Is Being Used In Shanghai To Feed Refugee Children

A recent mail from Shanghai brought information that "milk" is being made from soya-beans, with which to feed some 11,000 refugee children daily. Another 20,000 are eating cakes made from the beans.

Shanghai never has had many cows; and anyway, cow's milk would be far too expensive to take care of the present refugee problem. Experiments grinding up the soya-beans in Peiping some years ago showed that the milky liquid beans compare with cow's milk in vitamin content, though deficient in minerals, particularly calcium. However, these can, and are, being added to the local produce.

To the refugee camp, a grandstand was given by a Chinese friend, and this is the major part of the equipment needed for separating the milk from the beans. An American dairy whose plant had been bombed by the Japanese sent its delivery carts and bicycles. After deliveries started last November, with an initial output of 90 pounds, experiments were made to utilize the residue after the milk had been ground out. It was found that adding flour, palatable cakes and cookies could be baked. A large Chinese department store offered the use of its umbrella.

Umbrellas For Hire

Railway in England Has New Service

A new service has been introduced by the Southern Railway Company for the benefit of a limited section of its public. Passengers can now go to any of 30 specified booking offices on the company's system and ask to be provided with an umbrella as well as a cheap return ticket.

Germany Advised Of Danger Of Relying On Britain's Neutrality

London.—Great Britain has impressed Chancellor Hitler of Germany the extreme danger of relying upon this country's neutrality, but has given no undertaking to go automatically to the defence of Czechoslovakia if Germany takes to war, it was officially stated.

Germany has been advised to be under no illusions, not to gamble on the success of a short campaign against the Czechoslovaks without considering intervention by France and later this country.

After a week of almost continuous consultations between Prime Minister Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, and Sir Samuel Hoare, home secretary, and the government's diplomatic advisers, the position of the government was authoritatively summed up in these words:

"It is of the first importance that the Germans should not be under no illusions in this matter and that they should not—until it has been suggested they might—count upon it that a brief, successful campaign against Czechoslovakia could be safely embarked upon without the danger of the intervention of France and later of this country."

"Although in view of what has been said it would hardly have been thought possible that in any responsible quarters in Germany there could have been any doubts, there have been opportunities for Sir Neville Henderson (British ambassador to Germany) during his stay at Nuremberg to meet all the principal leaders of Germany, with the exception of Chancellor Hitler, and from full reports he has given of his conversations, we have every reason to feel confident our views have been conveyed fully to the proper quarter."

Events of the weekend may be summarized as follows:

1.—The British government finally has impressed upon Chancellor Hitler its position.

2.—The inner cabinet was in practically continuous session at 10 Downing street and it is assumed that concerned general defence plans as well as efforts to prevent a European war.

3.—Joseph Kennedy, United States ambassador, visited Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Halifax each twice, indicating the Washington government is receiving full and comprehensive reports of every move.

4.—Anthony Eden, former foreign secretary; Winston Churchill, Conservative, veteran who often has been a critic of the government, and Clement Attlee, leader of the (Labor) opposition in the House of Commons, all visited the prime minister. Observers suggested the reason for these conferences was the government's wish to inform all shades of political opinion and ensure national support in the grave crisis.

Alberta Oil

Drive To Have Turner Valley Oils Used In All Refineries

Calgary.—Several oil refineries in the west are operating on imported crude because of a mistaken idea that all Turner Valley oil is contracted for by major oil companies, it was revealed in replies to letters sent to western refiners by E. W. Kolb, secretary of the Alberta Petroleum association. The association is continuing its drive to have Turner Valley crude used in all western refineries, Mr. Kolb said.

NEW TENSION IN EUROPE OVER THE CZECH SITUATION

London.—Suspension of negotiations in the Czechoslovak-Sudeten German autonomy quarrel caused new tension through Europe.

Great Britain was reported seeking to restrain Germany, "protector" of the Sudeten German majority, from any warlike action and was bringing new pressure to bear on Prague when the Nazi-style Sudeten German party suddenly broke off negotiations with the Prague government.

This development aroused grave fears in London, Paris and other European capitals. It was quickly followed by reports from Nuremberg that Chancellor Hitler had told Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German party, to refuse to deal with Prague at the latest offer.

While the British foreign office withheld comment pending official information, there was no attempt in official circles and among embassies in London to conceal the gravity with which they viewed the abrupt turn of event.

Pessimism over the breach in negotiations—"was the greater because of the reason given for it—an assault of Sudeten Germans."

There was a feeling in high quarters that if Germany resorted to force it would be on an invitation from Henlein to preserve order reminiscent of the manner in which Germany annexed Austria.

Another important factor in the widespread anxiety was that Hitler was believed to have insisted on a statement before he makes his pronouncement on foreign affairs before the Nazi party congress at Nuremberg.

There still was no evidence that Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, had been able to deliver Great Britain's admonition to Hitler that any war in Europe might become general.

British stand by Sir Neville, was believed not to have conveyed to Hitler the full importance of the administration.

Certain diplomatic quarters feared that Hitler might be planning to force to carry out the Sudeten German demands unaware that the British might fight for Czechoslovakia.

Prime Minister Chamberlain returned to London from his vacation in Scotland for a conference with Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, on the latest developments in the crisis.

The rupture in negotiations followed closely upon a statement in London by an authorized British spokesman which was interpreted as an indirect warning to the German government and the Sudeten Germans to consider seriously the latest Prague concessions.

The spokesman said the Czechoslovak proposals "seem to represent a basis on which negotiations might well be conducted" and "it is hoped here that both sides will get together and examine them in a spirit of good will."

Sydney, N.S.W.—Prospects of the Dominions obtaining any great number of immigrants from the United Kingdom in the future have dwindled sharply with the falling birth rate in Britain, the British Commonwealth relations conference learned from its British delegation.

Britain actually has been receiving emigrants in recent years as its population tended to become stationary or possibly even decline, it was stated.

COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE BREW GUN CONTRACT

Ottawa.—With instructions to make the most complete examination possible, Mr. Justice H. H. Davis of the supreme court of Canada was appointed a one-man commission to investigate the contract awarded the John Inglis company of Toronto for 7,000 Bren machine guns.

A statement from Prime Minister Mackenzie King said the inquiry would have as its particular object an investigation of the charges brought by Col. George A. Drew, Toronto lawyer, in a magazine article concerning the handling of this contract.

Hon. J. L. Ralston, K.C., Montreal lawyer and former minister of national defence, will be counsel to assist the commission and "the government is prepared to pay the reasonable expenses and remuneration of counsel for Colonel Drew, should he wish to engage counsel to assist him."

Mr. Justice Davis agreed to undertake the inquiry on the understanding that he will receive only his out-of-pocket expenses. He is expected to open the investigation in Ottawa on or before Sept. 19.

Col. Drew is being invited to appear before the commissioner and to lend whatever assistance he may.

Terms of reference to the commission were considered broad enough, Mr. Mackenzie King said, to cover all the allegations mentioned in Col. Drew's article.

"Should it appear to the commissioner in the course of his inquiry that the terms or wording of the reference are to this end inadequate in any particular, the reference will be so enlarged as, in the opinion of the commissioner, will serve adequately to its intended purpose," the prime minister said.

In all defence measures taken by the government, he said, it was desired that "not only shall there be no wrongdoing but no suspicion of wrongdoing."

Col. Drew's article, "Canada's Armament Mystery," was published in the Montreal Star on Sept. 1 and appearing in circulation much earlier. It questioned the statements made in the house of commons by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence, on awarding of the contract and criticized it from several angles.

Italian Race Doctrine

Discord Between the Vatican and Fascism is Evidence

Vatican City.—Fresh evidence of discord between the Vatican and Fascism over the new Italian doctrine of race appeared in L'Observatore Romano, Vatican newspaper.

The newspaper attributed to Pope Pius the view the anti-Semitic doctrines "concern a great and serious error which reaches the steps of the altar, touching Catholic doctrine."

Simultaneously, a Fascist warning was given to Jews abroad that a boycott of Italian goods might work against Jews in Italy.

Il Giornale d'Italia, edited by the authoritative Fascist, Virginio Gayda, commented on a despatch telling of move by London Jews to boycott Italian goods.

"The fate of Italian Hebrews is still in the balance," the paper said. "But it is certain that if Hebrews of Italy want to mix themselves in unadvised gestures, the situation of Italian Hebrews might become rather serious."

The movement to eliminate Jews from official life proceeded steadily. In Milan a Jewish lawyer, Vittorio Sacerdoti, resigned from the bar as a result of the racial program announced July 14. Numerous Jewish army and navy officers were reported to have tendered their resignations.

The pope was not quoted directly in his remarks to 40 Italian school teachers at Castel Gandolfo. The following in part was L'Observatore's summary:

"His holiness mentioned the cardinal points of racialism set by universities. To these points were appended a series of commands and it is not known whether they were made by the writers of the points or by those who published them."

"Nevertheless, the ideas in these comments have been repeated and spread everywhere through the Italian and foreign press and are taking ground everywhere. It concerns a great and serious error which reaches the steps of the altar, touching Catholic doctrine."

Britain's Huge Debt

National Debt Now Said To Be Highest in History

London.—Great Britain's national debt was reported to have passed the $40,000,000,000 mark for the first time in history.

A government white paper showed the total debt outstanding March 31 was £18,026,143,422, an increase of £228,013,876 (about $1,144,595,390) over a year ago.

Since 1919, Britain's debt had fluctuated around £17,000,000,000, but rearmament expanded expenditures.

Italy Taking Sides With Germany In Demands Of Sudetens

Rome.—Italy, siding with Germany, advised Czechoslovakia semi-officially to heed the autonomy demands of her German minority.

The Italian position was outlined in Informazione Diplomatica, authoritative organ issued occasionally by the official Stefani News Agency. Diplomats attribute it to the importance of a government communiqué.

The semi-official statement restrained from saying what Italy might do in case Czechoslovakia refused to come to terms with the Sudeten German minority.

It cautioned Prague of "a great crisis" unless the Czech-Slovaks turned a deaf ear to counsels which it said came from French and Soviet quarters with the perhaps hypothetical possibility of aid.

The statement said Italy had refrained from calling reserves to colors or other military action, presumably to stop troops, because it believed an agreement with Czechoslovakia possible. It indicated, however, Rome was ready "to face immediately and eventually" the situation.

The attitude of Italy has been, is, in conformity with the policy of the (Rome-Berlin) axis, clearly favorable to the demands formulated by Konrad Henlein and his famous eight points of Karlsburg."

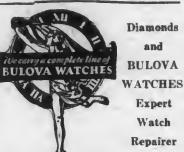

It said Henlein had not asked pure and simple separation of Germans from Czechoslovakia, and disclaimed for Germany any intention to wrest Sudeten territory from the war-created republic.

Rather, it added, such a "radical solution" had been suggested by newspapers, the statement naming The London Times and La Repubblica of Paris.

The authoritative editor, Virginio Gayda, in Il Giornale d'Italia, said: "In 24 hours the situation has been overtured." He blamed the Czechoslovaks for "deliberate or unrestrained exasperations of open injury" which he said Germany would not suffer indefinitely.

Current Comment on Local Events

CITIES and towns of Alberta are inter-dependent. The cities are wholesale and distributing centres; the rural areas make possible the big business of the cities. Were it not for the larger distributing centres, retailers in the smaller places would have to send to points farther away for their goods, and would have to order weeks in advance and in greater quantity than by ordering from comparatively nearby centres.

THIS ISSUE has been made possible by the co-operation of advertisers who have liberally supported our efforts. Its main purpose is to give greater publicity to the coal industry of the Crows' Nest Pass. As a newspaper we feel it is incumbent on us to make known to not only the people of Alberta, but to those further afield the importance of the steam coal industry. It entails a considerable amount of additional work to secure the material to make a worth-while presentation of the immense present and potential assets of the vast coal resources of these mountains, and the special article in this issue entitled "Coal Areas of Alberta" is well worth more than a passing glance.

IT HAS been the aim of the Journal to make known the significance of the coal industry, on which depends every line of retail and wholesale business in this area. At times we have felt that our own local retail business concerns and municipal bodies have failed to realize the necessity of co-operating in beneficial publicity concerning this district, but this has not deterred us from our objective—increased markets for Alberta coal.

A MUCH wider view than just attending to our immediate business must be taken if development is to follow. Co-operative effort must be organized in order to achieve definite results—each one poring over his own particular line of business without taking into account the wider vision will not get us very far along the highway of progress and development. Business men must give thought to these things if they, too, wish for the development of their own business concerns, for this is a competitive world, and little comes to him who waits for others to do the boosting. The Journal has been and is doing its share, and urges every business man in the Pass towns to get behind their Boards of Trade to do more than they have done in order to help the coal industry and thereby secure more employment for the mine-workers who buy the goods they offer for sale. The newspaper cannot do all the boosting unless it is backed up by those who receive the benefit of its efforts along this particular line.

A WALK around the outskirts of the town shows a steady increase in building activity. Vacant land is being rapidly taken up; houses are being built, and in the older portions of the town a surprising number of improvements have been made. The thought occurs—is the retail business keeping pace with this development? There is a far greater market for goods of all kinds than there was five years ago, and retailers should take cognizance of this by bending every effort to satisfy the demand. If they do not, the business goes elsewhere, for the public is very discriminating, and they read the advertising material that is circulated not only by this great family journal, but that which comes through the mail from the cities. The best way to meet this competition is to show by aggressive merchandising methods that Coleman at least tries to match the cities in its offerings to wide-awake buyers. This may appear to be a shop talk for ourselves; nevertheless it is absolutely true. People prefer to buy from their local merchants if they can buy on as advantageous terms as from the cities.

EXTENSION of the water and light services has been made necessary by the inclusion of another subdivision within the incorporated area of the town. This is just another evidence of the steady development of the past five years, directly attributable to steadier employment in the local mines. This increased employment did not come on its own account; it was secured through the far-seeing plans of the local companies' executive officers, whereby contracts were secured for their output, and by their expenditures of thousands of dollars to provide for the more efficient mining of coal. "Coal is King" here without a doubt! Coal, not gasoline built these towns. It shouldn't be necessary to re-state the fact, but every AMUSEMENTS in the early days of the Crows' Nest Pass were few and far between—perhaps a dance or two a year. Times were too strenuous for the pioneers to devote much time to leisure.

As the mines developed and the number of settlers grew, the need arose for organized entertainment, and in due course came the theatre, crude in structure and performance at first, but adequately serving its intent.

Engraving by Evan Cushing, Blairmore

Again as time went on and the amusement industry itself progressed, the old theatres and equipment outlived their usefulness and had to be replaced.

Today the Crows' Nest Pass is served by five of the most modern theatres in Southern Alberta, featuring the lastest film productions.

The management of Cole's Theatres takes this opportunity of congratulating the district on its developments, and to assure them that their established policy of leading the way to progress will continue in the future.

Greater Movie Season Gets Under Way

As Hollywood Prepares for Big Year Backed by National Campaign

AS ONE of the greatest advertising campaigns ever attempted by any industry goes into its second week, Hollywood has already begun to deliver the goods. "Alexander's Ragtime Band," one of the first pictures to be delivered on the new schedule, is already smashing new records for theatre attendance. If this picture can be taken for a sample of what's to come, it looks like a great year for theatre goers.

Motion Picture producers and theatre owners have at last joined forces in an attempt to make people theatre conscious. "MOTION PICTURES are YOUR BEST ENTERTAINMENT" has been chosen as the campaign slogan, and full page advertisements appearing in every daily paper throughout the United States and Canada will be used to prove this fact. During the last few years pictures have been regarded as a cheap form of entertainment by the public, and has been treated as such. The fallacy of this is easily seen by anyone who will take the time to analyse what is really put into the making of pictures.

Did you ever stop to think, after you had seen a picture at your local theatre, the work, time and money which was spent to make this possible. Studios built at tremendous cost, employing thousands of people, carpenters, electricians, mechanics, writers, musicians, actors, and scores of other highly trained technicians, all specialists in their own lines; working day after day, month after month, to produce one picture that you can see at your local theatre for a few cents.

Pictures are not cheap; they are by far the most expensive entertainment of today.

How many of us would ever have the opportunity of seeing and hearing the great stage and opera stars if it were not for your local moving picture theatres?

In two hours you will see important news of the day, gathered from all parts of the world; major sporting events, important personalities; visit strange countries, see a Broadway musical show, and then see some of your favorite books brought to life—all by the magic eye of the camera.

Moving Pictures are your best entertainment and only your continued support of your local theatre makes better pictures possible.

Coming Features:

W. V. Cole, manager of the Cole circuit of theatres, has just returned from Calgary, where he has been dating in pictures for the fall and winter seasons. The following is a list of outstanding hits that will be shown at your local theatres during the next few months:

Gary Cooper in "MARCO POLO."
Dorothy Lamour in "JUNGLE LOVE," all in technicolor.
Sonja Henie in "HAPPY LANDING." The screen's greatest spectacle, "IN OLD CHICAGO."
Shirley Temple in "LITTLE MISS BROADWAY."
"GOLD IS WHERE YOU FIND IT," an all technicolor production starring Olivia D' Haviland and George Brent.
Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen in "LETTER OF INTRODUCTION."
"YOUNG IN HEART," with Janet Gaynor and Doug Fairbanks, Jr.
"TROPIC HOLIDAY," an all technicolor production.
"ALEXANDER'S RAGTIME BAND," with Tyrone Power and Alice Faye.
Walt Disney's "SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS."
"ROBIN HOOD," all in technicolor.
"THE TEXAN."
"SPAWN OF THE NORTH."

Every program has been chosen carefully, and you will be assured of first-class entertainment at all times. For further information on current attractions watch the weekly advts. in this paper.

A noticeable percentage of the world's coal resources, particularly of Canada's, lies within the boundaries of the Province of Alberta.

The principal output of Alberta's coal mines comes from the following sources:— Bituminous - Crowsnest, Camrose, Nordegg and Mountain Park; sub-bituminous - Saunderson's Creek, Pincher Creek, Coalspur, Prairie Creek and Pekisko; lignite or domestic - Lethbridge, Drumheller and Edmonton.

COAL AREAS OF ALBERTA

By J. L. Irwin
(Statistician, Dept. of Lands and Mines, Government of the Province of Alberta)

In reviewing the various potential coal areas of Canada an easy first place must be given to the Province of Alberta as a result of the vastness, quality and immense value of her reserves.

So easily does she win this distinction that it is a matter of very real regret that the industry is not as prosperous as it so obviously deserves to be. With the bulk of the Dominion's coal areas lying within her borders and with the possession of quite a noticeable percentage of the world's supply it is sincerely to be hoped that the long drawn-out discrimination against Alberta coal may be near an end.

The Province of Alberta is presumably assisted by a subvention freight rate to Ontario of $2.50 per net ton when the ordinary rate is $3.00 or over. The value which this assistance has been, however, to the province may be illustrated by glancing at what actually happens and by taking for example Alberta's coal exports for 1935.

During that year this province shipped only 64,669 tons of coal to Ontario when in the same period that province imported from the United States in addition to shipments from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, 10,840,960 tons. Alberta's shipments to Ontario in this year, in comparison with these imports from the United States on which tariffs up to 75¢ per ton were paid, represent a somewhat discouraging one-half of one per cent.

This illuminating and depressing revelation, which is repeated year by year, is attributable solely to the fact that the subvention rate is not sufficiently generous to enable Alberta coal to enter an Eastern Canadian province and compete with a foreign product.

Such a revelation, of course, finishes at only one conclusion. A conclusion which must quite forcibly demonstrate the fact that pending a fair and reasonable adjustment of the situation, Alberta, holding the bulk of Canada's coal reserves, must continue to be largely inactive regarding their development until the time that Canada continues to be supplied with her fuel requirements from foreign countries.

A general classification of Alberta's at present accessible coal might be given as follows: bituminous, 59%; sub-bituminous, 23%; and lignite or domestic, 18%. Discoveries of anthracite in occasional pockets have been made, but commercial quantities under this classification have not yet been found.

The highest grade coal beds of Alberta are perhaps the deposits lying just east of Banff, the deposits in the district of Sheep Creek in the southern part of the province and those in the vicinity of Smoky River in the north.

The product of these three areas emanates from a cretaceous base and is described as a very high grade, low volatile, semi-bituminous coal. The deposits in the vicinity of Banff are regarded as the highest in grade of these three. Coal, similar in quality and reported to be in considerable quantity, is stated to be evident just beyond the Alberta boundary in the neighbourhood of Hudson Hope, B.C.

Production of coke and briquettes has shown a steady increase in recent years. Coke manufactured in 1932 totalled 2,183 tons, and in 1937, 65,967 tons. The production of briquettes in 1931 reached a total of 15,102 tons, and in 1937, 27,044 tons.

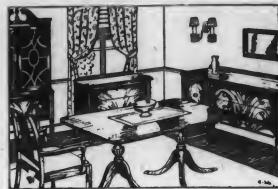

Production of coal in 1937 showed an increase of 987,892 tons over the total given for 1931. An increase in the purchase of electrical power used by the coal mines of the province is demonstrated by the total in 1937 of 25,483,749 k.w. hrs., as compared with the total in 1931 of 16,918,225 k.w. hrs.

There are 126 by-products of bituminous coal—oils, perfumes, aspirin, acids, dyes, tar, gas, benzol, pitch, coke, lamp black, gasoline, etc. Each of these is representative of a possible future market. A great deal may be dependent, with the coming of improved economic conditions and increased population, on assistance given by the Research Council of the University of Alberta with a view to the success of such development.

Hydrogenation or the extraction of oil from coal might perhaps be regarded as one of the most important of these. It is a process carried out on a large scale in Great Britain and one which may at a future date be successfully operated in Alberta.

The coal-beds of the Saunders Creek and Coalspur areas are considered the most suitable for this form of processing due to the fact that they are sub-bituminous in classification and possess a minimum of 30% volatile

PENNIES SAVED

From "The Printed Word" A handy man recently journeyed to his favorite hardware store to buy a gadget for which he had paid 90 cents in the past. It was still priced at 90 cents. A dialogue ensued:

Customer—In this what you would call builders' hardware?

Clerk—Yes.

Customer—But did not Mr. Dunning take the sales tax off builders' hardware? Should not this item be priced about a nickel lower?

Clerk—Well, you can have it for 85 cents. A lot of new pieces are coming through and we've not had time to put them up yet.

The handyman used to be a cynic. And when he used to be a cynic he would have classed this retail pricing as profiteering. But cynicism being old-fashioned, he concluded that the harassed retailer was merely trying to maintain a profit on items bought before the 8 per cent. sales tax was removed.

He probably will succeed in a measure, for the reason that the vast majority of people who buy gadgets in hardware stores do not know that there ever has been a sales tax concealed in the retail prices. And if they never knew it was there they are not likely to know that it was removed.

Which is another illustration of why people who must impose taxes are definitely in favor of taxes of which the general public is not aware.

Good Town
Good Newspaper

(Vancouver Province)
When in travelling one finds a clean, bustling town, obviously well managed, prosperous and proud of presenting a good appearance. It can be taken for granted a good weekly newspaper is published there. These things go hand in hand. A good town makes a good newspaper possible, and a good newspaper has a lot to do with making a good town.

This week Vancouver is playing host to the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. The editors and publishers of most of the good weeklies in the Dominion are in our midst. They are more than welcome, because these are men of influence, in a degree hardly to be measured. They may not write the laws of their country, but they have a lot to do with shaping them, and with shaping the terms and conditions of life. The weekly newspaper is close to the people, and trusted by the people. It is a responsibility that in Canada at least is worthily upheld and it is a trust that is seldom abused.

The day when the weekly paper was an unconsidered object to a job-printing plant has gone. The weeklies are prosperous today, for the most part, and alive to their opportunity and their responsibility. The organization of the C.W.N.A. has had something to do with instilling in the publishers a greater pride in their calling and a desire to publish newspapers of distinction. A feature of the annual convention is the competition for trophies awarded for makeup and content of the weeklies in various circulation classes. Competition is keen for honors highly esteemed.

The president of the association this year is Mr. George W. James, publisher of one of the liveliest weeklies in the Dominion, the British Statesman. To him and to all the members of the association Vancouver extends a hearty welcome.

Vancouver Province.

THE HUMAN EQUATION

(From "The Printed Word")

Gradually the grade of the grade crossing to motor traffic is being increased on our main highways. Each year sees the building of a few new bridges and subways, while grade crossings that remain are more adequately protected by signal lights. Nevertheless, a few days pass without a report of some unfortunate motorist who has failed to win a race with a train.

Peculiarly enough, railway statisticians say that 80 per cent. of grade-crossing accidents occur within ten miles of the victim's home. Frequently the victim is a farmer, so well acquainted with the schedules times of the trains that pass his property every day that he has given up looking both ways at the crossing. Then one day a special train appears at a time that the crossing would normally be safe, and another gory headline is provided for the local paper.

Human liability to error at times appears to increase with experience. It is the trained bookkeeper who has to spend hours at the end of a month hunting for a missing cent in his accounts. The practised orator is the man who, soon or late, makes a verbal indorsement that is remembered long after his most interesting speech are forgotten. Highway safety campaigns and highway safety laws must take into account the tendency of the experienced driver to make mistakes.

In some of the United States the law requires that every driver must stop when he comes to a grade crossing. Where the law is enforced, the results have been excellent. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred the precaution is unnecessary, but the hundredth stop saves a life. It is possible, too, that the law promotes highway safety in another way. Each time the motorist obeys the law, he is reminded that he is in charge of a potentially dangerous vehicle. The pause destroys for a time the hypnotic spell exerted by hours of automatic driving and allows the conscious mind to recover control.

Early History of Coleman

Townsite Surveyed 35 Years Ago
by International Coal & Coke Co.
Limited; Steady Progress is Record of Intervening Years.

In the early part of the year 1903, the International Coal & Coke Co. took over the Coleman townsite and the coal lands adjacent. The townsite was surveyed and lots placed on the market on October 22 of that year. During the remainder of the year officials and workmen practically camped on the townsite or slept at Blairmore hotels.

About Christmas, however, the Coleman hotel with its ample and comfortable accommodations was opened. At the first of the following year, 1904, Mr. E. E. Reynolds arrived from Pennsylvania to take the position of mine superintendent. During the year the town rapidly developed and at the close the population was about 500. Banking and business houses providing every necessity for civilized life were in full operation.

The first overseer was Mr. G. M. Tripp. School accommodations being urgently needed, a temporary arrangement was made with the trustees of Blairmore district, in which Coleman was situated, to open a school in the town. This was done with Miss Nettie McIntyre as first teacher. The Church of England mission hall, small building erected in the spring of the year, was used for two months as a school room, but becoming too crowded, the upper flat of the Byrner building was engaged. The Coleman school district was officially set apart in March, 1905.

The improvements in 1904 included the erection of Company offices, bank official's residence, R. N. W. Mounted Police barracks and a second hotel in town, while the plant at the mine was practically completed.

In the summer a citizens' committee put in a temporary water system, surface pipes conducting water from a short distance up the creek which ran through the village. This was replaced by a permanent system before the beginning of winter. The electric light system was put in operation about the middle of April, 1905, and a telephone system also about the same time. In the fall of this year, 1905, a fine large school building was erected, as the village had entirely outgrown its school accommodation. Messrs. A. Cameron, F. G. Graham and Rev. R. A. Robinson were first school trustees. Miss Cameron succeeded Miss McIntyre as teacher, resigning in December this year. However, this school building was found inadequate and another building was erected to accommodate the smaller classes. Mr. Manthorne is present principal, with Miss Jobbet and Miss McNab as assistants.

On April 1, 1906, the Institutional church, one of a number of similar buildings scattered through the west built by the Presbyterians, was opened. Part of the building is devoted to club rooms, which are kept open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day, and which are bright and well appointed. A recreation and debating club has recently been organized in connection with this, which promises splendid results. Rev. T. M. Murray is pastor of the church.

During this year the adherents of the Church of England, who were the first organized denomination under Rev. R. A. Robinson, feeling their church home too small, built a fine chapel in the residential part of the village. Rev. Mr. Webb is present rector. The Catholic church was also built this year and is a large building eminently suited for their purposes and a credit to their cause. Rev. Father DeWilde is the popular resident priest. The Pacific was the third hotel built and enjoys good patronage. Many residences were also built this year.

Many improvements had in the meantime been made by the coal company, chief among which was the additional building of 75 coke ovens. Mr. H. N. Galer was overseer during 1907, and many improvements along PUBLIC Utility Services, considering the work they do, are the cheapest things purchasable today.

They are the "servants" in the home. They light the lamps, do the cooking and cleaning, heat the water, operate the washer, provide positive food protection and a constantly varying programme of radio entertainment.

To industry, they are "silent partners." They make the machinery go, turn raw material into finished products, permit production of low cost products through economical and efficient power.

This Utility Company fully appreciates the part it has, and is, privileged to play in the furtherance of the Progress in the Crows' Nest Pass.

It has been its constant endeavor to render a dependable, efficient service with a full realization of the fact that the progress of the Community and the progress of the Utility are inextricably bound together—that both must co-operate for the common good.

Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba representatives, meeting Port Arthur in the semi-finals. Playing without substitutes, the result of a ruling unearthed by their arch-rivals Bellevue and upheld by the A.A.H.A., Coleman trimmed Port Arthur 4-0 in the first game and lost the second 6-1 to lose the series. The Ports won the Allan Cup that year.

At this time hockey was enjoying great popularity and the local junior team was one of the best in the province. Such players as Baba and Bill Johnston, Mickey Brennen, Jimmy Evans, Jim Fraser, Geo. Graham and Duke Kwasnie played for the team.

The senior team practically joined the professional ranks together and local hockey suffered a set-back which took many years to overcome.

Coleman went back to the intermediate division, while Bellevue and Blairmore carried the colors of the senior Pass aggregations, both towns winning the provincial championship.

Blairmore dominated the hockey picture for many years, thanks to the faithful work of the Rev. Young, pastor of the Presbyterian church there. He encouraged the juniors who, when the entered senior ranks, swept all provincial opposition before them.

In 1932-33 Coleman again came back into the hockey picture with the capture of the Black Cup, emblematic of provincial intermediate supremacy. The following year "Duke" Kwasnie coached the team and injected a new fighting spirit which carried them to the Western Canada Intermediate championship against Swift Current.

In 1934 they entered senior ranks and for three successive years entered the provincial Allan Cup finals, only to be defeated. Last year, with a new executive, hockey reached a new high when the locals entered the Kootenay league composed of Rossland, Trail, Nelson, Kimberley, Lethbridge and Coleman. Kimberley were already Allan Cup champions, having won that honor in the spring of 1936. Trail, with stars picked from practically all Western Canada, set a hot pace from the start and won the league championship easily. It is interesting to note that Coleman was the only team to hold their own against the Smoke Eaters, winning two games in four.

Trail beat off the league play-off opposition and literally coasted to the Allan Cup, which they won at Calgary in the spring of this year.

This coming winter will see Coleman once again enter a new set-up. The A.A.H.A., which in past years allowed itself to be run by the officials of the Senior Six league in Alberta, has finally taken the bit in its teeth and is now dictating terms and conditions by which all Alberta teams will abide. As a result Coleman and Lethbridge, who were refused admission to the Alberta Senior league last year and were forced to enter the Kootenay league, have been admitted to the new Senior Seven, a league comprising all senior outfits in the province.

In preparation for next season's activities, Coleman has imported four players as well as a nationally-known coach, Mike Kryschuk. The latter coached St. Boniface Soc. to the Dominion junior championship last year, and with the experience gained should be able to help Coleman in its ambitions to win the Alberta senior championship and go a long way towards the cherished Allan Cup.

FISHING CLUB HOLDS FOURTH OUTING

Coleman Rod and Gun Club held its fourth outing on Sunday, when ten members motored to the Castle River bridge, where the big fish are plentiful.

Adam Walker was again to the fore in this competition, winning the prize for the largest basket. He caught his limit. J. L. Lonsbury won the prize for the heaviest mixed basket and also for the largest brook trout. R. Penman won the competition, catching the largest bull trout and largest grayling.

This, according to President Lonsbury, is the last competition of the season. The annual amateur competition, prizes will be held soon after the season closes on Oct. 15.

ROD AND GUN CLUB ORGANIZED

Coleman Rod and Gun Club was organized by a number of ardent fishermen in the spring of 1928, with W. Burns, then mayor of Coleman, as the first president, and W. S. Purvis as secretary. A membership drive was made, with the club showing a membership of 158 when the fishing season opened.

days, and fisherman took the opportunity afforded by the club members who owned cars to get out to their favorite streams and indulge in their sport. Refreshments were usually taken after to pep up the weary fisherman at the end of the day's fishing.

The club continues to operate each year, the various members taking their turn as officers. Today J. L. Lonsbury is its president, and has been for the past three years, while George C. Burns has been its secretary for many years. Membership for 1938 was sixteen. Cars are now plentiful and former members desire to fish where the waters are quiet. Instead of having numerous fishermen crossing and re-crossing the waters which they wish to cast their lines, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gardner left for Edmonton and points north on Saturday, where they will visit Mr. Gardner's parents and engage in a little fishing for two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Burns accompanied them, and Mrs. Clifford will visit Edmonton for two weeks.

ON SUNDAY

Edmonton Asphondias - Jalpandas, senior softball team of northern Alberta, will make their appearance at the local hall park on Sunday, when they oppose Coleman Cub for the championship of Alberta.

A twelve game series will be played, games starting at 1 and 4 p.m. Total runs in both games decide the winners. Coleman were given a bye into the finals and they have defeated the northern club a certain amount to date. Coleman Tags are being sold on the meet on Saturday to help defray expenses. The Cubs have had several games during the season, but suffer the disadvantage of not having a league to compete in.

Angelo Gentile is sponsoring the team, having had no baseball this season to sponsor. A good crowd is expected to witness the games.

J. BELL WON WESTERN CANADA QUOTING CHAMPIONSHIP IN 1929

A $500 Bet On The Game

Quotin' in the early twenties was a major sport in Coleman, with competition among local players. Clubs were formed in various towns and cities throughout the province and provincial competitions were held.

In 1929 the Coleman club personnel of which was Jock and Bill Bell, Alex, Rankine and Bob Penman, travelled to Calgary for the provincial competition, competing against teams from Calgary and Drumheller. They were successful in their quest and brought the title to Coleman.

The highlight in quoting circles was the match bet between two local men, Jock Bell and the late Alex Rankine. Both were excellent quilters and there was much doubt as to who was the better player. Each bet $500 on himself, with others betting on the match, getting even themselves, on the outcome of the match. This historic game was played in the summer of 1929 on the quoting pitch located where the two under tent courts are now located. The game was won from the start, Rankine began to go out in front and held his lead against a strong finish by Bell to win 61-55. In 1929 Bell travelled to Banff, where he won the Western Canadian championship against the best in the west could offer. He won a silver tray and held the silver quill, emblematic of the championship for one year.

Bell died in Calgary several years ago, his son becoming one of Calgary's leading quilters.

PASS SCHOOLS SPONSOR INTER-SCHOLASTIC ATHLETIC MEET.

In 1927 a movement developed between the school boards and teachers alike in the Crows' Nest Pass area that the students should be encouraged to compete in sports. It was decided to hold one day each, when all the school would compete and winners would be determined. Trophies to be given to the students who starred in a number of various events.

In 1930 a shield was donated to the athletic meet. Bellevue won this shield consistently, having the advantage of several local athletes, such as the Costick sisters, Jim Radford, Cousins, Emmerson, and a host of others. Coleman on the other hand had only male athletes, the girls refusing to indulge in athletics when the shield was first competed for. Bellevue won the trophy on five occasions, simply because of the absence of the above mentioned athletes. The sports parade and managed to defeat everyone. They have held the shield for over two years. During this time athletes who had competed for Coleman in 1930 had now become teachers, and the combined forces of three of Coleman's young teachers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dewar, A. McDonald and Jim Cossing, in training the local scholars, bore fruit, and in 1933 swept away the opposition to win the coveted silverware.

Stan McDaniel of the local 1937 team have now left, and the boys' division losing Bob Emmerson and Harry Thomas, while Isobel McDonald is lost in the women's division.

It is interesting to note that Miss McDaniel has been appointed physical instructor for the Pass towns in the new health program which is being sponsored and encouraged by the provincial government. The date for the meet this year is set for September 30.

FOOTBALL TO FORK IN PAST YEARS

Football in Coleman has always been to the fore in summer sports. Even when the town was coming into being as early as 1905 the town had its football team.

Of the very early teams little is known. It was in 1913 when the team showed up in play against the Mutz and Crahan trophies. Several of the players are still living here. In that year they won against the challenges of Fernie, Coal Creek, Kimberley, and Cranbrook, and then the thriving metropolis of Vancouver.

Coleman's so-called "million-dollar" team cut a wide swath in league and provincial circles in 1923. Winning a row of games and also trophies put up for competition, the team entered the provincial play-offs.

They were successful in winning their way to the final, when they met Nordegg and "K. & S." Cup, emblematic of the provincial championship, and were then scheduled to meet Nanaimo in the Dominion play-offs. The game was played in Calgary. The coast stars showed too much class for the locals, and Coleman made their exit from Dominion competition.

Football in recent years has not enjoyed the popularity as in former years, but the game was brought into town to help strengthen the team and in spite of this the team finished last in 1933 and 1937. In 1938 lack of cooperation among the executive and players caused the team to disband.

The Crows' Nest Pass team, including Fernie, Michel, Fernie and Kimberley, played one game against each other, but failure of Coleman to organize was responsible for the team "folding up."

FRED LEES MADE MARK IN MARATHON RACES

It is doubtful if one local athlete kept Coleman in the sports map as long as Fred Lees. Fred was a great five-miler and won many trophies as a result of his prowess.

For two years he dominated the herald Thanksgiving road race, winning in 1929 and 1930. In 1924 he attempted to win the Crows' Nest's Christmas Day race, but won second place. A feature of this race was the fact that Fox News photographed him from start to finish and the film was brought to the old Grand theatre, now demolished.

In 1926 he again won headlines with his record time at Cardston in winning the 5000 yards race. He continued to run for several years after he left Coleman and was occasionally heard from in the sport pages. He is now with the staff of McCallivray of Fort Macleod, having married several years ago to settle down to a quiet life, where arduous physical training is only a dream.

HORSESHOE PITCHING PROVED

every line were made, new buildings erected, new businesses started, a large increase in the output of the mine, making necessary a larger staff of skilled miners, and general growth all along the line.

D. J. McIntyre succeeded Mr. Galer as overseer. In June of this year he resigned, and a council composed of Messrs. A. Cameron, F. G. Graham and D. F. Hughes were elected to fill out the term, and they have well looked after all interests of the village, which now boasts of a population of 1300, and is by all recognized as the most prosperous village in The Pass.

Coleman is also blessed with a Board of Trade which takes in all her business men, and is alive to all opportunities to spread abroad the good name of Coleman and to develop home business along every line.

In the sporting field Coleman has a football team and a hockey team that stand well up in the leagues in which they belong. A large rink is in operation in the season and is well patronized.

Taken all around, Coleman is most alive and prosperous and is a credit to her founders and to the men who have stayed with her since her start four years ago, and who now rejoice in a live growing prosperous village.

The future of Coleman may be predicted with certainty. Already the village is feeling the impetus of the general expansion throughout the west and greater mine development, more coke ovens, new industries based on our natural local resources and a larger community are in prospect. The village that can show such a remarkable and substantial growth in four years, properly speaking a mere period of experiment, is bound to make giant strides now that resources are proven. Potentially Coleman is a city. Her citizens feel that they are residents of no mean community. They know what the past has done. To the future they commit themselves with confidence and hope.

(Ed. Note: The foregoing is taken from a special illustrated edition of the Pass towns, published in 1907 by the Fernie Free Press office.)

Steady Development In Recent Years

Increased Employment in Coleman Mines Results in Home-Owners Making Many Improvements.

Following the depression which was prevalent over all Canada in 1929 and a few years after, Coleman began to make recovery in 1932, when the battery of coke ovens of International Coal & Coke Co. Ltd. were re-opened after many years of idleness.

Successful negotiations between the company and Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. Ltd. resulted in a contract being awarded for supplying coke for the Trail smelters, which of course necessitated increased coal production, besides which substantial orders were secured from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company extending over a period of years.

This gave steadier employment to miners than had been the rule for some years previously, and the increased payroll was evident in the improvements that were made to all classes of homes, besides which many new houses were built in the original townsite as well as in the sub-divisions of Carbondale, Graftontown and East Coleman.

Among the more important buildings was the new high school opened in April, 1937, at a cost of about $35,000, being of the finest modern type.

Local improvements have included mainly the surfacing of roads and sidewalks within the incorporated area of the town. A more adequate system of street lighting is under consideration to supplement the system now in use. Town taxes have remained fairly stationary for many years, but this year an increase in as-

TECO STORE and EATON GROCETERIA, LETHBRIDGE, a Modern Eaton Store Supplying Lethbridge Community with Wearing Apparel and Footwear, Dress Goods and Staples, Furniture and Home Furnishings, Hardwares and Housewares, Auto Accessories, Drugs and Toiletries, Foodstuffs and numerous other lines.

Eaton service, in a modern, well-stocked departmental store, means courteous attention and a particularly pleasing range of choice in personal and home needs. And, of course, that is exactly what you find at the TECO Store at Lethbridge—continually refreshed stocks of dependable wearing apparel and accessories, seasonable and good-value offerings in clothing, footwear, notions and a wide variety of school supplies and kiddies' needs.

You will find it a store that caters to your every want—and best of all, at prices that suit the everyday budget. While in Lethbridge, you are invited to drop in and see us, to refresh yourself with a delicious snack at our Luncheonette counter, to inspect our newly enlarged sporting goods department; in fact, to spend a pleasant day on our premises "just shopping."

And to list a few of the reasons why Eaton's have successfully served the public of Canada for over sixty years:

Confidence—shopping made safe by the surety of the Eaton slogan "Goods satisfactory or money refunded."

Convenience—quick service to on-the-spot or far-off customers.

Charm—for city shoppers the allure of all the displays and attractions of a well equipped departmental store.

"The greatest good to the greatest number" was Timothy Eaton's cherished aim when he founded the business—an aim zealously fostered by Teco to day.

RURAL PRESS AND SCANDAL

One great problem that always faces the country town newspaper and rural press is that of publishing news that brings scandal before the community. Sooner or later some person in the community does some act contrary to law that results in an arrest and they are called into court and a trial held. Usually they are well known in the community and are connected up by relationship with quite a number of good people of the town, who are friends and neighbors of the editor of the paper. Here is a situation that tears at the heart-strings of the editor as he does not desire to publish anything that will cause grief and sorrow to innocent people, especially those with whom he has associated daily for years.

But his readers are paying for the paper and expect that he will publish the news without discrimination. And a good editor tries to do that, but also tries to screen as much as possible the harshness of the news pertaining to those who make infractions of the laws and that throw a shadow over the lives of those near to them in relationship. The Christian Science Monitor has the following to say of the difference between the country town newspaper and the big daily:

"Turning from the city to the small town press exchanges that come to the editor's desk is like stepping from the slums, full of vice, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavender and thyme and the scent of perennial flowers. The pages of the big dailies are so full of murder, thievery, immorality and selfishness that the better news is obscured by these glaring shatterings of the Decalogue. One puts the paper aside with a feeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of terrible and unhappy things.

"Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little town around us, one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth the ways which uplifts a community: the activities of the business men, the church, items of the happy social gatherings of the people, the marriages, births and deaths, farmers' items, and all the thousand and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people who are really the foundation of this country of ours."

"Scandals are seldom published in the country newspapers, but if it so happens that decency demands it, the uglier details are omitted or given a kindly touch that it is widely different from the unfeeling publicity of the city press. The offenders may be our neighbors, or people we have rubbed elbows with all our lives. They are real human beings to their home town papers, while to the great cities, dealers they are merely graine of a sort that are ground out hourly in their news mills.

"Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is one of the most potent and uplifting factors in our national existence."—Viking News.

Steady Development

 assessment for school purposes made necessary an increase in taxes for the school district.

With developments and improvements being made at the mines, with a view to long term operation, Coleman anticipates the future with confidence, and with a maintenance of present employment conditions, steady improvement should result to the town.

BUILD - REPAIR
MODERNIZE

Fall BUILDING.....

WHILE weather and working conditions are ideal, you should arrange for the building or repairing you want completed before wintry days add unnecessary costs and delay. Now is the opportune time to build. Labor costs and materials offer unequalled economies.

MATERIALS:

Economy and lasting satisfaction calls for the very best quality materials in every building or repair job you do. Long years of experience have taught us that cheap and shoddy materials are always the most expensive. We insist upon quality first, at the most moderate prices.

AT THIS TIME and because of the situation confronting us, modernizing and re-modelling take a new meaning, not only to those who depend on Building for their livelihood, but to the owners of property, and to the entire community.

MODERNIZING may prove to be the means of maintaining and of raising morale. It is work that is needed, that can be financed and that gives employment to the largest possible number of workers directly and indirectly. It puts money into circulation, as few other projects can. It lessens the need for direct unemployment relief, by putting self-respecting men to work, instead of being on a demoralizing dole.

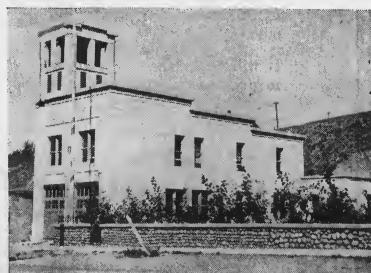

THEREFORE, let us help you plan your alterations and additions, structural repairs, sanitation and plumbing, weather-proofing, insulation and fire protection, heating and ventilation, electrical work, painting and decorating, etc., etc.

ESTABLISHED IN 1917, our record in all classes of important construction work, for municipalities, mining companies, banking institutions, store buildings and dwelling houses, is a guarantee of our ability to give complete satisfaction.

FURNACES:

WINTER COMFORT can be secured by installing a furnace. Now is the time to see us and make arrangements for installation. Greater comfort at no more cost than by heating with stoves.

COLEMAN FIRE HALL and town offices, formerly a building of "shack" appearance, was transformed, at comparatively small expense, into an attractive building, surrounded by a spacious lawn and shaded with poplar trees. We can do the same with any old type of frame building.

Early Days In
Frank Recalled
by Visitor

Mr. Harvey Murphy, of Nanaimo, Tells of Wild and Woolly Days in Former Metropolis of "The Pass." An interesting visitor over the week end was Mr. Harvey Murphy (not the gentleman of the same name of recent exciting episodes in the Crows' Nest Pass, but who lived here years before those occurred).

Accompanied by his wife, and by his sister, Mrs. J. Naylor, who had been visiting them at Nanaimo, Vancouver Island, they arrived by automobile for a few days visit, and renewed acquaintanceship with old friends in the Pass towns. On Saturday night Mayor G. Patterson invited a few friends to meet Mr. Murphy, who were regaled with some interesting yarns of happenings in Frank from 1906 and 1913, during which time he was in business with a gentleman named Cobley. Mr. Patterson also lived there at that time.

Frank, now a ghost of its former self, was a "bummering" of a town then; in fact Jimmy Naylor says there wasn't a natural death there in two years—those who died came to violent ends, either from hold-ups or from being bumped off for offences not tolerated in the game of poker.

Mr. Murphy lived in Macleod during construction days of the Crows' Nest Pass railway, when the Northwest Mounted Police headquarters was in full swing. He tells of many interesting and thrilling incidents of those days, when the present chief justice of Saskatchewan, Sir Frederick Haultain, was practising law, and the late Judge C. E. D. Wood was editor of the Macleod Gazette.

Life at Frank was even more exciting, with an occasional murder mystery to be solved, which included the killing of a mounted policeman, whose murderer was not apprehended till seven or eight years after at Michel, when two women in a quarrel gave a clue to the arrest of the murderer. Another murder case was that of a man whose body was found dumped in a log pond, having been struck with a knife, and on whom the jury returned a verdict of death by some unknown person. Though strong suspicion rested on certain parties, no action was taken because it was the general opinion he came to his death as the result of cheating at cards.

Mr. Murphy recalled the boom town of Hosmer. His partner decided it would be a good stroke of business to go up on the train (autos not being in use at the time) and purchase a lot to erect a store. Being away for over three days, the partner's wife became anxious, as did Mr. Murphy, as to his whereabouts, and it was discovered that instead of getting off at Hosmer, he met some congenial souls on the train and had gone on to Cranbrook. He didn't buy a lot, for which both were thankful when Hosmer died a natural death. This providential spread of the partner saved them from investing a considerable amount of their profits from the Frank business.

He is now engaged in a gent's clothing store in Nanaimo, and finds conditions there satisfactory. When he first went there, 8,000 miners were employed in the district; now there are only 900, but business in other lines has developed to make up for the decline in the coal industry on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy left on Sunday morning for a trip over the Banff-Windermere highway, via Calgary, and Mr. Naylor accompanied them to Cranbrook, returning from there by train.

HUNTER'S BAKERY PROUD OF PRODUCTS

Outstanding amongst the business firms in the Crows Nest Pass, which has kept pace with the baking industry in both equipment and methods, is Hunter's Bakery in Coleman. The high standard of their products is carefully maintained regardless of cost of materials.

The delicious bread and pastry offered by Hunter's Bakery are noted for their richness, lightness, taste and flavor. Wedding cakes, birthday cakes, sponge cakes, layer cakes, rolls, pies, pastries, doughnuts, and different kinds of quality bread are triumphs of excellence and give zest to the most discriminating appetite.

Bread may be just bread to some people, but actually there can be a vast difference in the products of different bakers. Hunter's bread is made by a special process whereby it is allowed to retain its flavor and yet has a fine, even texture.

In addition to their shop service, Hunter's Bakery now has a delivery truck calling, for your convenience, right at your kitchen door.

Mrs. Hunter, who manages the bakery, has been connected with the bakery business for over ten years and has come from Crows Nest Pass the same period, having been located in Fernie, B.C., until three years ago when she opened this modern baking establishment in Coleman.

Hunter's Bakery wishes to extend their thanks to all customers and friends for their patronage. Hunter's Bakery, located in Coleman, and the phone is 24.

"WE take this opportunity to thank our many friends for their loyal patronage during our business career.

It will always be our endeavour to give the utmost in service, and so merit a continuance of your good will."

"MARCO POLO" A THRILLING
ADVENTURE STORY

No character in history recalls the romance of discovery and adventure — no character in fiction ever equalled the amazing Marco Polo.

Following his way across two continents, he was the first European to reach China. To him the wonders of the East were first revealed. Returning home, he had been the most popular man in all the cities for the stories he told of a great Eastern Civilization. Ridiculed by everyone he knew, once again he turned to the East, and after years of travel and hard labor, returned to the court of the Great Genghis Khan who then reigned.

He became a general in the army, and his adventures make the most thrilling reading in all history.

You can enjoy seeing this true adventure story on the screen at your local theatre soon.

Embarrassed Social Credit Board

REPUTABLE STATEMENT MADE BY LUCIEN MAYNARD, S.C.
PAPER RE DIVIDENDS.

L. D. Byrne, "Social Credit technician," who with the Social Credit board obtained from Major C. H. Douglas, embarrassed the board and certain other persons, and caused many a stir in the community, has now broken his remarkable statement which had been made by W. E. Hayes, Social Credit member of the legislature from the Northern Alberta constituency. Marconi is 18 years of age, 6 ft 2 in. tall and weighs 183 pounds. Seaman is 19 years, 6 ft tall and weighs 185 pounds.

Rosco Delini, of Hillcrest, and manager of the All Stars, brought these boys to the attention of the Cubs and has been successful in securing contracts for the players as well as having a Pacific League coast scout for the Cubs instructed to visit the Pass and check on the records of these players. The scout is expected by Mr. Delini to visit the Pass at any time.

Should the boys fill out the contracts it is expected they will be sent to the Cubs' farm team, Syracuse Stars, of the International League. If they prove themselves successful they will then realize their great ambition of playing under the "big tent" with Charlie Grimm's Cubs.

BASEBALL HAS CHECKERED
CAREER IN COLEMAN

Angelo Gentile Has Been Mainstay of Team for Many Years

Baseball has had a long, colorful career in Coleman. Public favor towards this game seems to run in cycles. One year large crowds attend the games, in other years the club has to quit because of poor support and lack of finances.

Since 1924 Angelo Gentile has been playing a lone hand in trying to keep this sport alive in Coleman. Year after year with finances a team and still retains strong record of the outfit he has managed. Players who come ready to him are Pete Kelly, now living at Princeton; Bill Johnson, now in Hollywood; Bob Kerr, Johnny Ferke and Frank Cosgrove, the latter now residing at Kellogg, Idaho; Tony Blecko, Bill Gate and Louie Polichuk.

Cosgrove, in Angelo's opinion, was the finest ball player to ever play in Coleman. He could play any position on the field with perfection.

In recent years the ball park has been allowed to get in poor condition, rocks being forced to the surface by the severe winters, and no one seems to have the ambition to clean off the field in the spring. As recently as 1937 Angelo took his team to Blairmore to play all their "home" games in the Crows Nest Pass League. In 1938 no team was formed.

In big competitions during the summer season Coleman is always represented, and in most cases wins first money. Closer observa-

CHICAGO CUBS SEEK SERVICES PASS YOUTHS

Two Pass youths may be given the opportunity of realizing a dream of playing baseball in the National Baseball League if present plans materialize to their success in hurdling test trials.

The youths, Frenchy Marconi, of Coleman, and Eddy Seaman, of Hillcrest, have been brought to the attention of the Chicago Cubs and steps have now been taken to test their prowess to determine if they have the ability to enter the professional league.

Marconi, a pitcher, and Seaman, a third baseman, both play for the Crows Nest Pass All Stars, 1937 provincial junior champions, and who are in the final stages of a second year in the Northern Alberta championship. Marconi is 18 years of age, 6 ft 2 in. tall and weighs 183 pounds. Seaman is 19 years, 6 ft tall and weighs 185 pounds.

Rosco Delini, of Hillcrest, and manager of the All Stars, brought these boys to the attention of the Cubs and has been successful in securing contracts for the players as well as having a Pacific League coast scout for the Cubs instructed to visit the Pass and check on the records of these players. The scout is expected by Mr. Delini to visit the Pass at any time.

team under the "big tent" with Charlie Grimm's Cubs. The team and its coach, Mr. George Jenkins, have had little difficulty in bringing the Becker Lumber Cup, emblematic of the singles championship, to Coleman.

In playing to the final Jenkins found his most difficult match against his own club-mate, Chick Roughhead, whom he defeated in two hard-fought sets. This is Jenkins' first major title and one which may well be proud.

By the failure of the McLeod sisters, who now reside at Calgary, to attend the tournament on Sunday, Miss Mae Bell, who played with Margaret, and Miss Stewart, who played with Olwyn, were forced to default.

The mixed doubles title will be played on the local courts next Sunday if present plans are adhered to. Lethbridge's entry of Mrs. Art Wilson and Addie Donaldson will oppose Miss Stewart, of Claresholm, and Chick Roughhead. Mrs. Wilson is the player who caused many upsets at the provincial tournament at Banff in August, when she went into the finals of the open doubles.

It has since been learned that invitations have been extended by the Claresholm club to the Coleman and Lethbridge clubs to be their guests next Sunday. It is not known if the invitation will be accepted.

COLEMAN CO-EDS SHINE IN SOFTBALL

Softball is a sport of comparatively recent date. Its popularity has increased by leaps and bounds. The game originated in Canada and has now spread to the U.S.A. where a "world's tournament" is at present being played at Chicago.

Two Canadian teams are entered. When the game was first introduced to Coleman sport fans, teams sprang up everywhere, Merchants, clerks, lodges, school children and numerous other bodies formed teams and played in leagues.

From these leagues came the present team of ladies known as Coleman Co-Eds. They play year in year out with faint record of the game being played in the same spot where the present courts are situated.

It has been stated by these same old-timers that a player named Blackie, who at one time was a member of the International Coal Co. staff, played on the British Davis Cup team in 1900. No confirmation of this report has ever been made, although an E. D. Black was a member of the British team.

It is only within the last seven or eight years that Coleman has stepped out into the front ranks of provincial tennis circles. Previous to that time Blairmore and Cranbrook, as well as Corbin, dominated tennis in the Pass towns. Blairmore kept to the front mainly because of the sterling play of Mrs. Kerr. She dominated the ladies' singles for many years, being finally beaten by a Coleman girl, Emily Greenhalgh, now Mrs. Fred Guedard. Cranbrook had its Fergies, and Corbin's Dick Hincks, now of Calgary.

Mr. Wesley Watts, high school teacher, is partly responsible for the change in Coleman's tennis fortunes. He encouraged junior tennis, and by his efforts such players as Balloch, Roughhead and Greenhalgh arose to lead Coleman to the peak, where it has stayed ever since. So strong did the Coleman club become that the league, consisting of Cranbrook, Coleman and Blairmore, disorganized, it being a foregone conclusion who would win the shield, emblematic of the league championship. R. Shone has custody of the shield, while Balloch retains custody of the men's singles trophy.

In provincial circles Coleman is recognized as having players worthy of provincial ranking. Balloch being fourth in the 1937 rankings. The Southern Alberta tournament has for many years been dominated by the local club. Singles titles in both the senior and junior divisions have been won by local players. Roughhead won the junior title in 1934, Balloch the senior title three times, and George Jenkins, the senior title, which he won this week.

The Visitors' event, a competition at the provincial tournament open to all players outside of the cities, has been won three times out of four by local players. Balloch won it the first year it was competed for, and Dick Shone won it on two successive occasions.

Close to one thousand dollars has been spent to keep the grounds in order. The courts are considered the finest hard courts in the province. A steel wall costing $125 was erected at the north end of the courts. Credit to Mr. and Mrs. Luke Lindoe, who both presided as president of the club at various times, is given for their loyalty and interest to the club. When they departed from Coleman two years ago, two of the club's most ardent supporters were lost.

Once again interest in the junior players has arisen. The youngsters are encouraged to compete at the district tournaments with a view to having them receive all the experience necessary when they step into senior ranks.

HOCKEY CO-OP'S PET SPORT

Hockey has been the town's pet sport for many years. The early history of the town records a hockey team playing under Coleman colors. Early in the twentieth century teams were organized in Pass towns and many exciting games played.

To these hardy pioneers twenty or thirty below meant little, as they hitched "Dolly" to the sleigh and set out on their slow journey to keep a hockey engagement with the opposition. Bill Gate, Bill Jenkins, Frank and Charlie Graham are some of the hardy pioneers of that day who still remain in Coleman.

The arena was at that time located in Flumerfelt park immediately behind the tennis courts. It was later moved to its present location close by the C.P.R. depot.

Coleman entered organized hockey in 1920, joining a league composed of Taber, Lethbridge, Pincher Creek, Bellevue, Blairmore and Cranbrook, as well as Corbin. No cars were available in those days and covered from head to foot with coats and furs, players and their LOYAL supporters sat behind the plodding horses as they fought their way over snowdrifts and through blizzards, taking time out to thaw from time to time.

Hungry for better hockey a team executive brought in a new team in 1924-25 which gave the local fans thrills which they still remember. In 1925-26 Coleman made its first and only real effort to win the Allan Cup. The Tigers, as they were then called, beat off the opposition of Bellevue, with their Doc Barber and "Dirty" Hansen, two of the most colorful players to skate onto an ice sheet. Tigers then defeated British

Old Underground Villages

Temples And Odd Houses Have Been Unearthed In Peru

Wendell C. Bennett of the department of anthropology of the American museum of natural history, has returned from a six-months' archaeological expedition into northern Peru where he uncovered the dwelling places, temples, pottery and metal work of a civilization which, though forgotten, is one of the oldest in Peru. Dr. Bennett was accompanied by his wife.

Dr. Bennett found whole villages containing as many as 50 subterranean houses. These dwelling places were roofed with tremendous slabs of rock, some of them measuring 12 feet long and three feet wide and evidently cut from the mountainsides, but how they were cut and transported from the quarries to the village sites is unknown. Many of the sunken houses extended two storeys below the surface and contained five or six rooms on each floor with narrow passageways leading from one floor to another and from room to room.

Had Good System

Bus Driver's Idea To Avoid Accidents Proved Effective

Some time ago the champion safety driver of one of the largest bus companies in the world was given a banquet and a medal. He had completed half a million miles without an accident. When they called on him for a speech he rose and said: "I ain't much of a hand at making speeches. I suppose you want to know how I got away so long without an accident? I just got one rule, I drive like the other fellow was crazy."

Outing For Horses

Faithful old dobbies, who spend 364 days a year tolling over New York's busy city streets, journeyed over to Chester, N.J., at a gaily all-day picnic. Even a beauty contest was on the program, with prizes for the oldest and most decrepit horse. "The guest of honor was Anna, oldest horse in the country, who has been appearing with the Metropolitan Opera Company in 'Aida,' for 25 years."

Only Small Part Visible

Even though Mauna Kea in Hawaii is the highest island mountain in the world, the visible portion is only a small part of it, as it begins on a great plain 18,000 feet below sea level. It rises 14,000 feet above sea level, topped with snow. The snow gives it the name Mauna Kea, which is translated "White Mountain."

Their Intelligence Test

Some Of The Questions Scotland's Policemen Have To Answer

Members of the police force, probably in view of the almost encyclopedic knowledge the public expect them to possess, get a good general intelligence test in the examinations through which they have to pass.

There have just been issued the question papers for the last three years of the elementary and advanced examinations of the Police (Scotland) Examinations Board. Without being difficult, some of them require a certain liveliness of brain. Here are two from the elementary section this year: "What would you reply to your nephew, aged 10, if he asked you: (a) why does a flashlight shine when you press the switch? (b) Why does a thermos flask keep hot things hot and cold things cold?" In the next question it is a sign of the times to discover that Sherlock Holmes is not the only detective of fiction about which a policeman is expected to know something. Little Hercule Poirot now comes into the picture.

Then there is the problem of the troublesome Brown family. Father is 45, mother 43, John 20, Jane 18, George 13, and Kate eight. They all want to join some national or international social organization suited to their years and they "ask a policeman." The candidate is required to suggest something suitable for each of them. Many of the suggestions which first come to his mind would, of course, disqualify him.

In the advanced paper the candidate is expected to know the name of one British line of steamers principally associated with the passenger traffic on a number of given routes. The Scots, being great travellers, presumably found this a simple hurdle.

And, being great arguers, they also possibly had no trouble in proving the unsoundness of such arguments as: "The average length of life has risen from 40 to 60, so there must be many more people in their late fifties nowadays"; or "I can't have 1 tail, 8 cats have 8 tails; therefore, by addition, I can have nine tails."—London Times.

Jews Are Barred

Drastic Measures Have Been Taken In Italy

All Jews who have settled in Italy since Jan. 1, 1919, were ordered to leave the country within six months by a cabinet decree.

The decree applied even to Jews who have become Italian citizens because citizenship conferred since that date was revoked.

The edict was made applicable in Italy proper, Libya and the Aegean islands. No mention was made of Italian East Africa.

The settlement of Jews in Italy from now on was prohibited.

The decree defined as Jewish all born "of both parents of the Hebrew race regardless of religion."

Italian East Africa — Eritrea, Somaliland, Eritrea, and Abyssinia.

The decree was issued after a cabinet meeting at which Premier Mussolini presided. No official information was available to show the number of Jews who would be affected by the decree but observers estimated it would be more than 10,000.

The Next War

Will Have a Devastating Effect on Mankind

Dr. Raymond Turpin, eminent French biologist and authority on heredity, in an interview scoffed at the idea war fosters qualities of strength and hardness in the race.

In Ottawa, as the official representative of the French government, at the convention of the association of French-speaking peoples of North America, Dr. Turpin said the next war would be far more devastating in its effects on the race than any past one has been.

"Other wars have at least pre-served women, but as a result of the rapid progress of science aerial bombardment has come to play an ever-increasing part in modern warfare, so that women who had children no longer escape," he said.

Women, being no longer safe, will not be able to conserve the qualities of the race as they have in previous wars, he contended. Economic stringency in modern warfare would bring disastrous effects because of malnutrition.

Unveil Monument

Simple Granite Boulder To Memory Of Soldiers Erected at Vancouver

A simple granite boulder in the Canadian Pacific Exhibition grounds perpetuates the memory of the Tigers' Association 20th (Vancouver) Battalion of the Great War.

The monument was unveiled and dedicated by Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber in the presence of members of the Canadian Legion and other spectators.

"The glorious exploits of the battalion, participating as it did in the battles of St. Elos, Ypres, the Somme, Vimy, Hill 70, Lens, Passchendaele, and Amiens, Cambrai, Mons and other engagements, is a record that not only any battalion of itself might be justly proud, but is pre-eminently a matter of pride to Canadians in general and Vancouver in particular," the Lieutenant-governor said.

After the unveiling, Legion members paid fast the memorial, casting poppies on its base.

of Bellevue, Alberta. A young violinist whose long list of many successes at the musical festivals reached a climax when he was awarded a two years scholarship at the Royal Academy of Music, London, England. He also has the distinction of winning the Gold Medal for Grade VIII, awarded annually to pupils attaining the highest standard in Canada. He is a pupil of W. H. Moser, of Hillcrest, Alberta.

Child Drowned This Morning In River

John Kobewa, 3 years, East Coleman, was drowned presumably about 10:30 a.m. to day. His body was found by George Evans, who was fishing east of town, and artificial respiration was immediately applied by E. Pytlar, until the arrival of Dr. Rose, at 10:45. Efforts to resuscitate the child were unavailing and hope was given up after more than an hour's work on the body.

There were no eye-witnesses, and as far as can be learned deceased had been playing during the morning with his little brother, John Panik, Laura Slugg and Jackie Chalmers.

MERCHANT VOICES COMPLAINT

A local merchant complains that merchandise comes in from outside points which does not pay anything towards local taxes. Until legislation is passed preventing this, nothing much can be done about it. The printing industry in the smaller towns is faced with the same problem, and receives no protection whatever from chiselers and bedroom printing cut-offs that do not even pay decent wages or maintain any standard of ethics. This form of competition is vicious in its effect, and tends to lower the standard for employees and all concerned in the business concerns affected. Some ardent trade unionists we know help to support this type of "scab" business.

matter. Lignite coal of the plains of a certain type and possessing sufficient volatility can also be successfully subjected to the hydrogenation process.

The quantity of gasoline extractable in Great Britain is at the rate of 1,400 lbs. or 1734 gallons to every 84 tons of coal. The latest report on cost of the process, including use of fuel, is 16 or 22c per gallon.

The process in Alberta is not, however, practicable as yet for the reason that the cost of 22c per gallon is naturally unable to compete with the cost of about 10c per gallon in recoveries from oil.

Production of crude petroleum in the United Kingdom in 1936 totalled 119,000 long tons or 940,000 barrels. These recoveries were made principally from the hydrogenation of coal at a small percentage secured from the remains of shale and without the possession of a single producing oil-well. The industry in Great Britain is made possible by a protective tariff of 8d per gallon.

The day will unquestionably arrive when this new industry will also become possible in Alberta. Its eventual introduction into the province should in the course of time not only prove a powerful and invaluable ally to Alberta's oil industry, but result also in a tremendous increase in the development of the province's coal-mines and automatically create for such development a very much larger demand for labour.

The prospect of such a change in the future at least offers itself as one possible way out of the stagnation into which unjust discrimination has driven the development of the vast and extremely wealthy coal areas in Alberta.

ERNEST HOUGHTON
Secretary of Coleman Miners' Association
Engraving by Evans Gushul, Blaumore

Born in Lancashire, he came to Canada in 1911. The Crows' Nest Pass was his destination and his first job was at Blairmore cement works. Later he entered the employ of the C. P. R. at Coleman. In 1913 he went to the collieries at Passburg, and enlisted for overseas service in 1915 at Pincher Creek in the Canadian Mounted Rifles, training at Sarcey camp. He was transferred to the 192nd Battalion, his father, the late chief of police here, and his brother Harold, now of Calgary, having joined the same battalion.

In 1916 (October) he proceeded to Shorncliffe, being assigned to a tunnelling company, going to the Ypres salient, serving in that shell torn area for 18 months. In March, 1918, he was sent with other Canadian troops to take part in the big push, arriving at Doulous.

Here he became a casualty, being buried and almost killed by a shell explosion. This meant a "Blighty" and after convalescing in Buxton, England, he was returned to Canada. The day after Christmas, 1918, he commenced work for McMillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co., Ltd. He worked there till 1920, when he went to International mining.

In 1922 he was compelled to quit the mine, the effects of his war service making it necessary for him to return to Coleman. Returning to Coleman, he was steward of the war veterans club for two years, subsequently resuming employment with the McMillivray.

He was married in 1916 to Miss Annie Speed, formerly a Dunfermline, Fifeshire, Scotland, at Medicine Hat, and has three sons and one daughter, all living here.

He is one of Coleman's most industrious men, and has a commodious home on Sixth street, a large share of the building being done by himself.

The confidence of his fellow workmen was shown this year when he was elected secretary of the local union.

BLAIRMORE LEGION CLUB POPULAR PLACE

The fine club room of Blaumore Legion Club have proved very popular since their opening a few years ago, and this meeting place for business and social gatherings has done much towards keeping the community a united fraternal group together. Its executive officers maintain efficient supervision over its operation, and visiting members from other branches in The Pass, and further afield, may always be assured of a hearty welcome.

CHANGES AT BELLEVUE AND INTERNATIONAL MINES

William Goodwin, afternoon pit boss at International mines since October 11, 1935, resigned his position with the company on Tuesday, September 6, in order to accept a position at the Bellevue mine. He is succeeded at the International mine by Harry Wilton-Wark, who has been elected secretary of the local union.
